Back in 2014, a corporate scumbag who was elected to be the Republican governor of Michigan did the darnedest thing, and boy did he deliver on his promises just like Trump. In fact, they were friends. That aside, he switched the drinking water in a city called Flint from the fresh water of Lake Huron to the Flint River, the latter being in essence a sewage dump. This caused an outbreak of lead poisoning in a predominantly black community with lots of poor White people as well. It's basically a mini-Detroit, if you know the area. Six years later with no fresh water, jobs gone, crime through the roof and lead poisoning sky high, several high level officials including Snyder are set to be criminally indicted for their role.

> Former Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder, his health director and other ex-officials have been told they're being charged after a new investigation of the Flint water scandal, which devastated the majority Black city with lead-contaminated water and was blamed for a deadly outbreak of Legionnaires' disease, The Associated Press has learned.

Twelve deaths have been linked to the Flint Water Crisis and many more are sure to follow, if not a lifetime of the effects of lead poisoning. Lead is lethal and dangerous, the smallest dose is enough to affect major aspects of motor function, behavioral issues and large IQ drops, it changes the DNA structure and the effects are seen in the genetics of the victims' grandchildren. To make matters worse, when Snyder declared a state of emergency when none existed, he put his own unelected cronies in charge of the flaying city, among others. Being a corporate scumbag, when GM's car parts were being damaged by the lead from the Flint River, he had the pipes switched back to the Huron Lake for the car company, but not for the citizens. All this is documented in Michael Moore's documentary Fahrenheit 11/9. I recommend it highly.
